New services highlight Orchid Aesthetics' multifaceted approach to anti-aging

November 6, 2009 – New York - Orchid Aesthetics Medical Spa is pleased to announce the launch of its new and improved website. In addition to the site's many new features that make it easier to find them through the search engines and social media sites, the new design and interface present a dramatic improvement to the customer's experience. The new website for Orchid Aesthetics can be found at: <http://orchidaesthetics.com>

Orchid Aesthetics' goal is to provide their visitors with information to help them make informed decisions when considering aesthetic enhancement. The new site navigation, based on regions of the body, helps visitors browse a range of options and get recommendations on what services are offered for specific needs. In addition, Orchid Aesthetics has YouTube videos posted that share company information and client testimonials. Also offered are products for sale, gift certificates and a new blog on anti-aging and aesthetic enhancements, all of which will be update in the coming months.

New Service Announcement

A vast array of laser services was launched at Orchid Aesthetics in October 2009 and we are pleased to offer a 50% discount on packages of 4 or more until November 30th, 2009. Of particular note are the Non-Fractional Laser Skin Tightening treatments whose benefits include; no downtime, immediate results, and long-lasting results after the 4th treatment.
